Dear Subscriber,

Welcome back! Hope you had fun over the holidays and that your Winter term is off to a great start.

This month, I’d like to suggest something I think could really help with your assignments -- looking at a book (or two).

When you need to learn about a new subject, books can really help you understand it by giving you the background, key concepts, vocabulary and other important facts. And you’ll impress your profs :-)

• It’s easy to find good books and e-books.
Here’s a guide on how to find them at Brock. Or visit the Library.
Dear Subscriber,

Welcome to Brock from your Personal Librarian!

As your Personal Librarian, I'll be contacting you throughout the academic year to let you know how the Library can help you succeed as graduate student here at Brock. I'm happy to hear from you, too, so feel free to send me an email anytime at jthiessen@brocku.ca.

So, let's start off with a few basics:

- The Library has special spaces for graduate students on the sixth floor: there's a study room and meeting room just for you - no undergrads allowed.
- Got a question? AskUs at the desk on the Library's main floor or head to the Peer Assistants (with the orange shirts) near the Library Starbucks.
- Your library card ... is your student ID

Email marketing metrics: why?

- Another facet of assessment
- Provides benchmarks

What is email marketing?

“... sending email messages with the purpose of enhancing the relationship of a merchant with its current or previous customers, to encourage customer loyalty and repeat business, [sic] and to acquire new customers...”

--Wikipedia
What Is Professional Email Marketing?

By the above definition, any email communication sent on behalf of a business or organization qualifies as email marketing – even if it only contains text. Professional Email Marketing is employing a service or program that provides:

- Permission Based List Building - Also known as “double opt-in,” this is the creation of an email list by providing a signup box for prospective email contacts and confirming their approval with a follow-up email.
- List Management - The ability to organize, edit, segment, grow and manage a database of customer or client email contact information.
- Rich Content Integration - The addition of graphics, audio, video and text using templates and a “drag-n-drop” editor.
- Campaign Creation - The capability to organize and structure large volumes of email messages by theme, branding and schedule.
- Unsubscribe Features - Providing the potential for an email contact to quickly and successfully be removed from future campaigns should the person no longer wish to participate in your promotions.
- Online Reporting - The means to track the sending of individual email campaigns, at what rates they were opened and which emails were “bounced” as undeliverable to bad addresses.

Email marketing metrics

Opens:
“Open” refers to an HTML email message whose viewing is recorded by a clear 1X1 pixel image. When a message is opened and images are enabled, the image calls the server and the message is then counted as an open.

Clicks:
“Measures the percentage of email messages that drew at least one click.”

How we’ve responded

Summarize PL program and purpose in September and January emails

Include interactive polls

Remind librarians to promote PL program to students

Increase empathic tone

Expand to online/distance program
What about other PL programs?

- U.S.-centric
- Little published literature, even less focusing on assessment
- Standard response rate @ 7-15% (Yale, University of Toronto)
Canadian PL programs

- University of Toronto:
  - 2015-16 - 45 librarians, 2092 1st year Arts & Sciences students
  - Assessment: responses (down a bit), evaluation survey

- University of Alberta:
  - Aboriginal students: 65% open rate, 4% click rate
  - Expanding to international students

- Seneca College
- Sheridan College
- York University
What does it all mean?

- Paints a picture:
  - Qualitative
  - Quantitative
  - Metrics
  - Comparisons
- Overall, a success!

Looking ahead

- Correlation with student retention?
- Correlation between instruction and opens, clicks, replies?
- Program-specific analysis
  - Targeting more specialized programs?
  - Wider coverage?
- Cost-benefit analysis: 90 hours/year of librarian time
Can we help students thrive?

- No. 1 predictor of thriving is students’ connection with peers, faculty & staff = sense of community
- Libraries/Librarians can play a vital role by enhancing students’ sense of belongingness: helping them feel they have a place on campus where people care about them
