

Title:	Great Western Railway Map, 1881
Creator:	Great Western Railway (Ill.)
Dates of Material:	1881	Reference Number:	RG 641
Summary of Contents:	This map is an advertisement for the Great Western Railway which advertises Wagner's Palace, drawing-room and sleeping cars via this line from Detroit, to Buffalo, Rochester, New York and Boston. It is advertised at the shortest line between Detroit and Boston and all eastern cities. Also featured on this map are the comfortable smoking cars, new and elegant dining cars, the fact that this is the only direct Niagara Falls route and the only line in connection with the Michigan Central Railway. The dining car is also advertised along with the dinner bill of fare. There is a list of reasons why this is the favourite route to the east and a time table eastward is provided on the back of the map. Some personnel are listed on the map, they include: Wm. Edgar, General Pass Agent, Hamilton; J.F. McClure, General Pass Agent, Detroit; F. Broughton, General Manager and C. Stiff, Superintendent. The map was produced by Rand, McNally and Company Engravers, Chicago.
Scope and Content:	One map of the line from Detroit to Boston.
Physical Description/Condition:	The map is in good condition. It has been folded and there are a few slight tears along the folds. It is 40 cm. x 61 cm.

Biographical / Administrative Notes:
Location:	Brock University Archives
Source Information:	Purchased from Gordon Russell, 2018
Described by:	Anne Adams	Date:	Apr. 4, 2018