The purpose of the present mapping is to update previous studies and to reevaluate the bedrock geology of the study area. The area was described recently by Carson (1981), and more recently by Chapman and Putnam (1951-1966) and further mapped in more detail by Carson (1981). The area was described northwest of Shannonville by Chapman and Putnam, and the area to the south was described by Carson. The exceptions are the area northwest of Belleville, which was described by Carson (1981) and the area north of Sorellville, which was described by Chapman and Putnam (1951-1966).

The bedrock geology of the area was described by Carson (1981) and further mapped in more detail by Carson (1981). The area was described northwest of Shannonville by Chapman and Putnam, and the area to the south was described by Carson. The exceptions are the area northwest of Belleville, which was described by Carson (1981) and the area north of Sorellville, which was described by Chapman and Putnam (1951-1966).

The area was described northwest of Shannonville by Chapman and Putnam, and the area to the south was described by Carson. The exceptions are the area northwest of Belleville, which was described by Carson (1981) and the area north of Sorellville, which was described by Chapman and Putnam (1951-1966).