

5 Warren' Road,
Framingham,
Mass.

Dear Artie,

Can you guess where I am sitting? Out in the barn. My two sisters feel quite funny this morning, and have
followed me every place I try to write. A few minutes ago my
patience became exhausted, so when they weren't looking, I picked up ink, a chair, and

pillow, and stole out the back door. Now I am nicely ensconced
on the floor with the
pillow under me, and
the chair for my desk.
(Position is everything in life)

Say, Artie, before I
go any further, I want to tell you what a terrible “teeze” I think you. Don’t you know that my

disappointment is
great enough in not seeing you Saturday,
without your informing
me about the wonderful
time I'm missing?

I continue to enjoy
myself in the direction of boating, bathing, motoring, tennis and golfing;
the last of which I am
mad about. I manage to get up to the Country Club nearly every day to play nine holes at least, and three days

last week I played
twenty seven.

Yesterday we went to Boston. Our plans were to lunch at the Copley Plaza and take a
sight seeing car in the afternoon to the points of Historical interest.
Instead, a lengthy
shower came up which resulted in our eating

at the Lourraine and
spending the afternoon at the Theatre. I seem to be so unfortunate; it always seems to rain
when I plan to see the town.

I arrived home Monday night the second. If you would like to come up to 113 Tuesday evening
I should love to see you.
Let me know. I shall be here for the first

delivery Monday morning.
If you decide to send the answer here, mail it
any time Saturday.

Sincerely,
Celeste.

P.S.

I have gained five pounds. Isn't that great? Am now 125.

C.

FRAMINGHAM. MASS

JUL 29

9-PM

1915

Mr. Arthur Schmon

Drake Business College

Broad and West Park Sts.

Newark,

N.J.